

Emma Brechin
Business Development Manager

“

Construction is a lot more than its reputation - muddy boots and builders bums!

I ended up in the industry by fluke, but I don't see myself ever leaving.

I would encourage every young woman to visit a contractor's office and see all the different skills that are needed to complete a building; from Business Development, Design Managers, Estimators, Bid Writing, Quantity Surveying, Site Management, Marketing, and many many more!

”