

Leanne Milligan

Finance Director and Company Secretary

“

I love that my role has a very broad spectrum and I deal with a lot of different people (both in terms of role and personality).

Obviously my position involves dealing with numbers (that's the bread and butter part of it), but despite the title, there are so many other aspects to my job.

Every Monday starts off with the other Board Directors to discuss key areas of focus for that week and indeed for the month / year ahead. This meeting itself can be lively!

Monthly, I will meet with a number of colleagues to review all aspects of our Construction projects. Each discipline will come together for a review and this will involve thrashing out risks and opportunities, consider any technical problem solving required, health and safety on our sites etc.

”